Soniclean celebrates exporting excellence in health, biotechnology and design

Soniclean is proud to announce Vaxine as the winner of the prestigious Health and Biotechnology Award, along with MGM Wireless in the Product and Services Design Award category, at the Business SA 2018 Export Awards.

As a major sponsor, Soniclean is thrilled to be able to celebrate South Australian international success by sponsoring two awards this year -for excellence in the Health and Biotechnology fields, and Product and Services Design.

The Business SA 2018 Export Awards recognise South Australian companies which are excelling in the international marketplace by selling and promoting their products and services, including our award winners, Vaxine and MGM Wireless.

Soniclean is among the world's foremost manufacturers of innovative medical grade ultrasonic cleaners, with more than two decades of leadership experience in the ultrasonic industry. Soniclean ultrasonic cleaners provide a faster, safer alternative to conventional cleaning methods.

Having a strong export market is critical when it comes to driving the South Australian economy, and Soniclean is helping local producers thrive on a local and international stage.
